Dear Colleagues,

Greetings from Indian Council of Agricultural Research.

I sincerely hope that you along with your families, colleagues in the institution and all the near and dear ones would be making all efforts and taking all the necessary precautions to remain safe and also help other less advantaged people of our society during these difficult times to defeat the dreaded Corona pandemic, by far the worst pandemic ever faced by humanity.

Whereas, the entire world community and our country is united to battle the pandemic, it is very painful that scores of people including some very promising scientist colleagues, staff and their family members at our institutions have lost their precious lives during the pandemic. In these difficult times we extend our solidarity with the family members of all those who have lost their lives during the pandemic and pay our deepest condolences to the families and stand unitedly with them in their moment of grief. I would urge you to bring out candle march involving the faculty and the staff of the institution in remembrance of all deceased members of ICAR/NARS family and pray Almighty to rest the departed souls in peace and give all of us the necessary strength to remain calm and focused during this adverse period and continue our efforts to serve the humanity and the farming community of the country.

I would also like to acknowledge the contributions made by our entire agriculture scientific community and our farmers in the form of dedicated and untiring efforts to ensure that the production and productivity of the agricultural commodities continued to grow at a very satisfactory rate during the pandemic period while all other sectors were severely impacted.

I would also again urge you to leave no stone unturned to spread awareness regarding Government guidelines and the precautions especially the necessity of wearing proper masks all the time, proper sanitisation of hands and equipment, maintaining social distance, drinking warm water, taking steam at least twice every day, taking all the measures to boost immunity through timely vaccination and all other possible means while remaining in positive frame of mind despite adversities. I may also urge you to ensure timely and effective treatment of all the COVID positive cases in your institution in consultation with competent Doctors. I have no doubt that with perseverance, dedicated efforts and effective precautionary measures, we would be able to conquer the enemy very soon.

Please stay safe and healthy.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely

(T. Mohapatra)
