

Agronomy Society

Agronomy Society at Palampur was established in the year 1974 on the initiative of Dr S C Modgal, the then Professor and Head, Department of Agronomy followed by the Director of Research, Vice Chancellor, G B Pant University of Agriculture and Technology, Pantnagar and the Director General, UP Council of Agricultural Research, who was the first president of the Society.

Members

The postgraduate and undergraduate students having Agronomy as their major subject of study and the Agronomy Faculty (Teaching, Research and Extension) are the members of the society. Membership is open to students and technical staff of the other faculties too.

Aims and objectives

- To promote the interest in study, research and extension in the field of Agronomy among the students and faculty of the university
- To increase the professional competency and efficiency of the students of Agronomy and to keep the contact with the ex-students of the profession.
- To provide a volunteer forum for creative activities in the field of Agronomy with a view to be of service to science and to the farming community.
- To keep the Agronomy students informed of the various scholarships and fellowships in the subject, and also of the positions advertised.
- To keep liaison between the Agronomy Society at Palampur and the Indian Society of Agronomy, New Delhi.